Notes from Oliver:

Fred Jerbis is an adventurous young producer from the Friuli region of Italy, who is more of an herbalist than a distiller. Specializing in botanical spirits of many types, Fred forages, grows, and gathers most of his ingredients locally, often times infusing individual botanicals to a single spirit and blending afterward. Utilizing his deliciously herbaceous Gin 43 along with Fred Jerbis Dry Vermut, the Gin-Tini is batched using Fred's personal ratio of gin-to-vermouth, so there's no need to guess on the measurements. Simply pour into your cocktail shaker and stir over ice, then strain into your Martini glass of choice. Both fragrant on the nose and savory on the palate, the seamlessness of the Gin-Tini is impressive.
